U.S.A.

Dear Sir,

thank you very much for your letter and I should like to excuse myself for the delay in answering it. Let me send you, through intermediation of the Central Library of the Slovak Academy of Sciences, several special reprints of my articles. I want to ask you, if possible, to inform me about the direction, in which the application of cybernetics to psychology develops in the U.S.A. in present times /e.g. in the sphere of perception, heuristics, and so on/.

Thank you once more for your encouraging letter.

Sincerely yours
